Combating antimicrobial resistance (AMR)

I am a resistance fighter. Yes, I am a resistant fighter against antimicrobial resistance. It has been two years since I saw writings on antimicrobial resistance. It is there that I began research on the topic of drug resistance, and it has marked me. As a result, I became a cyber activist against AMR. Being in the field of animal health and veterinary public hygiene, I raise awareness among breeders and resellers (especially poultry) on the prudent use of antimicrobials and respecting their waiting time. In the near future, I intend to look for equipment to make video productions because the audiovisual communications raise awareness more effectively than words in the rural world. Although I am alone without help, I will always fight against this phenomenon which is causing destruction silently. I created the Ivorian section #hcsMCIv on Twitter of Healthcare Communication Media Social to be increase our communications on how to care for our antibiotics. Because all of us need to be resistance fighters.
