

I'm a resistance fighter™

Kindu Geta

Doctoral candidate
Debre Tabor, Amhara, Ethiopia

Combating antimicrobial resistance (AMR)

I have committed my doctoral research to doing my part to become an antimicrobial resistance (AMR) fighter. I will soon complete my PhD at the Bahir Dar University, where my studies have focused on identifying successful strategies for raising public awareness of AMR, and on raising awareness of proper antibiotic use in Northwest Ethiopia. Let us stand together to fight antimicrobial resistance. Because all of us need to be resistance fighters.

Learn more at AntimicrobialResistanceFighters.org

